

The American Miniature Horse Association represents the future of the horse business.

The combination of an increased demand for the American Miniature horse in the marketplace and the rapidly growing number of members has fueled the exploding popularity of the breed.

- In the last decade, the AMHA has had the second largest increase of all breeds in annual foal registrations, a 50% increase.
- Annual transfers have increased by a whopping 37.64% in the last five years.

- For the last five years the AMHA membership has seen a steady annual increase, which represents a 45% increase in membership.
